"HER-CU-LEX"

for

Nerve

Weakness

"HER-CU-LEX" is the latest invention of Dr. Sanden, the pioneer of Self-Treatment with Electricity. Popular throughout the world as a natural, common sense remedy for Nerve and Brain Exhaustion, Indigestion, Constipation, Pain in the Back, Rheumatism, Declining Vigor, Urinary Weakness, Sluggish Organs, Impotency, etc.

Not "a cure-all" but an ideal cure for all disorders or weakness resulting from overwork or excess of any nature. It is simple, harmless, convenient; has a perfectly constructed battery enclosed in comfortable cloth case. Worn about the waist nights, or during the evening, the mild, soothing currents invigorate the nerve and vital centres, awaken dormant nerves, strengthen relaxed muscles and induce natural secretion of the vital fluids. This improves digestion, enriches quality of the blood and accelerates its circulation, and has a direct beneficial influence upon the bowels, regulating their action in a natural way. Used during a period of rest, it conforms with the processes of Nature in every way.

Dr. Sanden's method of self-treatment, WITHOUT DRUGS, is the only self-treatment consistent with natural law and appeals to reason and common sense as filling a long felt want among those who are neither sick nor well, who are "all run down," and just dragging along in a half hearted manner; also, to those who have concluded that drugs cannot cure them. With ordinary care, "HER-CU-LEX" will last for one year, is not bulky, makes no noise and is as comfortable as your clothing. If you are weak or otherwise ailing, send for Dr. Sanden's latest book, "Health in Nature," free upon request, securely sealed.

Every weak man should read it. It will prove interesting to you, as it has to others who had despaired of recovery by other means. Send at once and write name plainly. Address, mentioning this paper.

HONGKONG, MONDAY, JUNE 1, 1903.

HONOURS FOR HONGKONG OFFICIALS.

The news conveyed by Reuter of the honorary distinctions conferred upon three of the oldest officials in the Hongkong Public Service will be received throughout the Colony with considerable satisfaction. We are informed that the Imperial Service Order has been conferred on the Honourable Commander R. Murray Rumsey, R.C. (ret'd.), Harbour Master, and Mr. Bruce Shepherd, Land Officer at Hongkong, and that Inspector Mackie, recently retired from the Police Force, receives a medal. Each in his respective department, these three officials deserve well of the Colony, with which they have been long and honourably connected. Captain Rumsey and Mr. Bruce Shepherd are, we understand, both on the eve of retirement, while Mr. Mackie has been for the past month actually in the enjoyment of his well-earned pension. The recognition of the valuable services of the three officials cannot, therefore, but be endorsed as a fitting testimony of good services rendered to the Colony. Our first acquaintance with Captain Rumsey dates back about twenty years when Capt. Thomsett held the substantive appointment as head of the Harbour Department. He was then working single-handed, Capt. MacEwen, the Assistant Harbour Master, having resigned on the 12th April, 1884. The assistantship was filled, by the arrival in the Colony of Capt. Rumsey on the 10th January of the following year. Within three months after Capt. Thomsett left and his assistant assumed absolute charge for one year during his absence. For six months during 1887 Capt. Rumsey went on leave returning in the middle of October. The post of Harbour Master became vacant on the 1st May, 1888, on the retirement of the holder of the appointment, and Capt. Rumsey was appointed thereto. Since then he has conducted the duties of his office, under the Merchant Shipping Ordinance (consolidated and amended at each stage with the growing requirements of the port), with considerable efficiency and, speaking generally, to the satisfaction of the shipping community. The duties and obligations devolving upon the Harbour Master are many besides a number of minor matters to be dealt with during the time a ship is in port—matters in connection with the crew; statutory requirements relating to masters, their agreements, their official logs, &c.; and emigration; storage of explosives, &c. He is practically at the beck and call of the people whose interests he has to attend to. Although on one occasion recently we had to refer to an instance in which the Harbour Department failed in its courtesy to the master of a British trader, the subsequent facilities which the captain obtained on the next day must be taken as ample reparation for the shortcomings previously complained of. In addition to the departmental routine duties, as head of the shipping office, Capt. Rumsey acts as advisor to the Government in all matters relating to the principal factor contributing towards the prosperity of the port. The share he has taken in the debates of the Legislative Council shows him to be an official of the true orthodox type, always with the official phalanx, though willing and ready to secure any advantage and facility to shipping and commercial interests. The lighting of the harbour approaches has been considerably improved during Capt. Rumsey's tenure of office. The construction of the Gap Rock Lighthouse was commenced and completed within his time, and the Waglan Light was taken over from the Chinese Government during his regime. There is now a far more improved system of signalling the approach of vessels, and his association with the committee of inquiry on the Hongkong Observatory effected some little improvement on the debatable subject of storm warnings. Should the Kowloon Bridge, first mooted by Capt. Rumsey, ever become an fait accompli his name, if for no greater scheme, will ever be associated with it and the Colony.

In another department and one whose work is not so much in evidence before the public but certainly none the less thoroughly recognised and gratefully acknowledged, Mr. Bruce Shepherd claims a rightful meed of praise. It would almost be a work of supererogation to enlarge upon the inestimable qualities of an officer and a gentleman, with whose retirement, opinions are unanimous, the Colony will be all the poorer. Mr. Shepherd's date of appointment in Hongkong is the 14th August, 1882. Just a year after he succeeded Mr. Hazeland as acting deputy registrar of the Supreme Court in addition to his office of clerk of the Deed Registry. With the transfer of the Land Office to the Registry of the Supreme Court towards the end of 1884 Mr. Shepherd was gazetted deputy Land Officer on the 19th November. Very shortly after a petition (in January, 1885) was presented to the Legislative Council praying for legislation to improve the land laws in force in Hongkong, owing to the fact that a very large number (it was believed a majority) of the titles to land in the Colony had, for various reasons, fallen into a most complicated and entangled condition. This circumstance did not tend to lighten the duties of the incumbent in the Land Office. If anything, they were aggravated by the growing practice of dividing lots into sections and sub-sections. As far as we know, the law has not been amended, and through all the difficulties and accumulations of work which have at times arisen through the department being greatly under-officered, Mr. Shepherd has cheerfully put through his onerous duties with conspicuous success. Contrast the rent roll of the Colony twenty years ago with that of the present day and we have but a fair idea of the phenomenal growth in the work of the department over which Mr. Shepherd so successfully presides. The total number of lots on the 24th December, 1883, amounted to 1,886 with a rental value of $154,000. Of these 268 and 950 were Hongkong Marine and Inland Lots, respectively. In 1903 the rental value of the Colony can safely be estimated at over six million dollars, with a proportionate increase in the lots throughout the Colony and its dependencies. Nor is his urbanity of manners lost to the community who are so often brought into touch with Mr. Shepherd in the almost daily transactions at one time attending land deals in the Colony. The squatters' holdings in the suburbs and districts have ever been a source of trouble, but with the appointment of the Board to inquire into the question and examine titles, &c., Mr. Shepherd, as secretary since its constitution in 1890, has been of invaluable aid to the members of which the Board have from time to time consisted. His investigation into the Kowloon reserve lands and later his exhaustive report on the system of land tenure best adapted to the New Territories are works that will long outlive the retirement of the subject of our notice from active service. By none other is the regal recognition more richly merited.

If Mr. Mackie much has been written and said shortly before he left these shores for England in April last; suffice it to mention that his long record of service in the police is as widely known as it is generally appreciated.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

LeMunyon will have another grand opening Day and a Souvenir day as well; watch the date. —Advt.

Mao Taotai, the Director of the Tientsin Bank has gone to Peking to discuss the Government Mint with the Board of Revenue.

The London Gazette announces that the King has been pleased to approve of Mr. Gaston Ernest Liebert as Consul of France at Hongkong.

It is reported that a certain supposed rich tin lode in Pahang has, on examination by an expert, been found to consist principally of sandstone.

The Tientsin Prefect Ling is said to be strongly opposed to contracting any foreign loans for the City finances, and maintains it is better to work for a Government grant at a low rate of interest.

Many people are of opinion, says the Malay Mail that the new export duty on tin should have been imposed a year ago before the American Company expended money on land, staff, &c.

Now look out for LeMunyon's new store adv. It is a beauty.—Advt.

It is generally understood, that Li Kwai Fan, one of the murderers of Yeung Kue Wan, and who was sentenced to death at the last criminal sessions, will have the sentence commuted, to that of penal servitude for life.

VICER'Y Tsen Ch'un-hsuen, according to a Chungking telegram, passed the city of Luchow in the same province (Szechuan) on the 20th ult., en route South. H.E. will therefore be unable to arrive in Shanghai much before the 10th inst.

The Commander of the N. D. L. steamer Nurnberg reports that he has passed on May, 23rd in 2 deg. 5 min. North and 120 deg. 11 min. East, the British barge John Davis code signal Q. C. G. M. which wishes to be reported "all well."

We shall have a Souvenir Day soon, but you will have to pay us a personal visit as no chits will go. LeMunyon.—Advt.

Two more cases of plague occurred in the Victoria Canal this morning, the victims being natives, who were serving their time there. We regret to learn that P.C. Hampdon, attached to the Tsim Tsa Tsui Police Station has contracted the disease, and was removed to the Kennedy Town Plague Hospital yesterday.

THERE was a fire in town yesterday to the effect that Kang Yu-wei, the reformer had arrived in the Colony per the French Mail Annam, and that he landed without being observed. Later in the day, it was found out that the Imperial recall, supposed to have been emanated from the Emperor Kwang Su, was a false one, and that it was through the machinations of the Empress Dowager. We are also informed that Kang Yu-wei, took the first steamer bound for the South again yesterday.

A CORRESPONDENT writing to the Pinang Gazette on the subject on judicial appointments in the Malay States thus concludes his article:—Lately several members of the Perak service have been given appointments in Hongkong and the Government might do worse than reverse this process and call on the Hongkong Service to supply one of the magisterial offices in the States. Magisterial experience in Hongkong confers and must confer just that knowledge on the Chinese and Chinese methods of business which is invaluable in the Native States, and it would be a matter of satisfaction to all who are interested in the welfare of the States to hear that the next magistracy which falls vacant had been offered to one of the occupants of the Hongkong bench.

Don't forget the chits for they will not go to LeMunyon.—Advt.

FORGERY ON THE H. & S. BANK.

A shroff named Chang Hin-sze was brought before the Mixed Court, Shanghai, remanded from the 24th April charged with attempting to utter a forged cheque for Tls. 150 on the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank on the 23rd instant.

Inspector Matheson said that the Police had been unable to arrest the actual forger of the cheque. He thought that if the present prisoner were dealt with, there would be more chance of arresting the other man.

A representative of Messrs. Sassoon and Co. said that the prisoner was an insurance shroff in their employ. He was willing that his brother should go to Hankow to find the actual forger, but was anxious that a runner of the Court should go as well to assist him. The prisoner was willing to pay the expenses.

The prisoner was released on the same bail as before, Tls. 50, and it was left to the Court to make arrangements for arresting the fugitive. —A. C. D. News.

THE SILVER QUESTION.

The price of silver naturally continues to attract a considerable amount of attention. We have seen a fairly smart rise and then a set back during the week. There are several factors at work to contribute to the former, amongst which is the purchase of more than 300,000 ozs. per week by the United States Government for the purposes of the new Philippine coinage, which has kept American supplies from coming on to the market there. The Indian price has likewise been high, there was a considerable French order to be filled, and there is no doubt that a moderately considerable "bear" position had to be covered. There have not been wanting signs that a partial "corner" existed in April silver, and sellers of May silver are also believed to have been caught "short." Certainly there has been a considerable demand for spot metal, and brokers have been asking everywhere for the "loan" of silver, but with very few results. In face of falling prices, stocks have been kept low, and in the absence of the usual quantity coming forward from America, and the strong demand that has come from India, there is little matter for surprise that orders have been difficult to fill. The future remains, however, on as insecure a basis as it has done for some time.

Meanwhile the Commissioners appointed by the United States Government to consider the request of China and Mexico whether means can be arranged to use silver at a stable ratio with gold will ere long reach this country after their visit to Mexico. Concerning this visit, a Mr. Gadd, an American who has devoted considerable attention to the question, suggests that in view of the friendly official visit, a committee should be formed to study the silver question in all its bearings and acute developments, surrounded as it is in 1903 with conflicting interests and arbitrary exchange influences, alike prejudicial to the best interests of gold standard and silver using and producing countries. He goes on to ask: How is the value of silver to be determined for the purpose of a stable exchange for silver using and producing countries? His reply is that the climax of value, whatever that value may be, cannot be balanced except through bullion banks of issue, acting automatically to maintain a stable exchange between gold standard and silver using and producing countries, otherwise the silver problem will continue to bristle with perplexing fiscal eventualities. He proposes that silver should be based on gold, but without a ratio to gold, and operated without the presence of gold, and he further claims it to be an exchange plank strong enough and broad enough to carry the silver product of the world, even should the output become doubled or trebled in volume. Bullion banks of issue when operated from London and New York, will legitimately and profitably employ all the silver produced.—L. & C. Express.

THE Beer to drink in the tropics is the Beer made in the tropics—SAN MIGUEL.

DESPERATE SITUATION IN YUNNAN.

THE CAPITAL AND MENGTSZ BESIEGED.

TOWNS CAPTURED.

It was only a few days since that Reuter telegraphed from home to the effect that a serious anti-dynastic outbreak had occurred in Yunnan, and that the rebels had captured the city of Linanfu. Since then further information of a serious character has been received in the Colony, not the least significant being a telegram to M. Réau, the Vice-Consul for France, stating that native officials had informed the French Consuls at Yunnan and Mengtsz that the situation had grown very serious, and urging them to at once call in the workers on the railway line now being built between Tonking and Yunnanfu. This they evidently proceeded to do, and, according to the telegram just to hand, both the capital of the Province and Mengtsz have been besieged for the past fifteen days. The wire states that in Yunnanfu there are sixty inhabitants of French nationality, including ten women and children, while at Mengtsz the community comprises a hundred French and Italians, thirty being women and children. The Chinese officials in those places are in despair and consider the situation as extremely grave. The telegram confirms the report of the capture of Linanfu, and adds that Hemitcheou and Chippingtscheou have also been taken, thus cutting off the line of communication from Yunnanfu.

THE STRAITS CURRENCY.

Although local expert opinion has up to the present, says the S. F. Press, confined itself, publicly at all events, to a more or less general expression of opinion that the scheme formulated by the Straits Currency Committee at Home for ensuring a fixed currency is likely to prove a disaster, there are many points open to discussion, and many details that may cause serious harm to our trade if not foreseen and provided against. Government has not yet declared its intentions as regards adopting the recommendation of the Committee, either wholly or in part, and possibly will not do so until its plans are matured. It is stated that during the recent visit of the Colonial Secretary to Batavia, he took the opportunity of consulting the Netherlands Indies officials on currency and other matters. Now that Mr. Taylor has returned, an opportunity may be given members of the Legislative Council to express their views on the scheme, for though the currency question has been discussed at nauseam, there is still much to be said on details. The Committee of the Chamber of Commerce have, it is understood, already considered one or two points, but reference to them may yet be premature. A matter of great importance to the trade of the Colony is how to deal with what Mr. A. Huttenbach in his book calls the "co-user"—the traders in the surrounding countries who know no coin but the Mexican or British dollar, and use no other in remitting to Singapore. The custom of a native trader away from Singapore is to send produce here, and take back manufactured goods, rice, and a certain proportion of dollars. Or he may pay for goods purchased here partly in produce and partly in dollars. A difficulty will arise if he is not permitted to carry on his business, paying and receiving balances in specie. According to Mr. Huttenbach's calculations, half the whole trade of the Colony is done with countries who would, because co-using the Straits currency, be affected by any change in it. He specially mentions the case of Deli and Acheen, whose trade is so important to Penang, saying that safe action can only be taken by the Straits with a full previous knowledge of the intentions and extent of co-operation of these co-users. From Deli we have now an indication of opinion, attached to a criticism of Mr. Huttenbach's book in the Deli Courant, of May 11. That journal quotes the expression of Mr. Huttenbach's opinion that as far as Deli is concerned it looks very much as if they will go on using the British and Mexican dollar, and goes on to say: "We would sincerely regret this; we consider it of great importance that also for Deli a fixed dollar rate should exist, the more so as she can foresee that if the Straits should adopt a dollar with a fixed rate, the Government will at the same time forbid the importation of dollars. Then silver will go down still more and the dollar still further depreciate. The rise of the last few days must be attributed to the daily expectation of a Government resolution regulating the rate of exchange. On the adoption of a good basis in India and Japan, silver at the beginning rose, only to fall to a lower point afterwards. It would not at all astonish us if the dollar, after the regulation of the exchange question in the Straits, should go down to 80. In any case Deli can derive no profit by the maintenance of the Mexican dollar, while it would have all the advantages of a fixed dollar rate equal to that of the Straits."

The Kyushu Tea Export and the Brick Tea Manufacturing Companies, of Nagasaki, and the Tea Manufacturers at Fukuoka and Kumamoto, which have hitherto been working together under an agreement signed by them last year, are now reported to be arranging for their amalgamation into one concern. RUSSIA AND MANCHURIA.

In the House of Lords on the 30th April, Earl Spencer asked the Secretary for Foreign Affairs whether the report which appeared in the newspapers as to the communications between Russia and China in reference to Manchuria was true, or if he could give the House any information on the subject, it would be a source of satisfaction.

The Marquess of Lansdowne, in reply, said:—At the last meeting of the House I mentioned to the noble Earl that communications were passing between the Russian Government and the other Governments concerned with regard to the conditions which the Russian Government were alleged to be demanding in connection with the evacuation of Manchuria. These communications are still in progress; but, in the meanwhile, we have received, from a source the authority of which we cannot question, information to the effect that the Russian Government have laid information that they have no knowledge of the reported Convention, and that they disclaim all intent on of seeking exclusive privileges in Manchuria, or departing from the assurances given in regard to that province.

In the House of Commons Mr. Bowles asked the First Lord of the Treasury whether His Majesty's Government would consider the advisability of proposing to the Russian Government a reference to the arbitral jurisdiction of The Hague of the questions which have arisen relative to the claims and position of Russia in Manchuria; further, whether they had considered the advisability of proposing to the Russian Government to refer also the pending questions affecting the interests of both countries in Persia, Afghanistan, Asia Minor, and the Dardanelles.

Mr. Balfour: In regard to both these questions, while His Majesty's Government are desirous of using to the utmost the advantages given to international relations by the constitution of The Hague tribunal, we do not think that any of the questions now pending between us and Russia are of a kind which that tribunal could usefully deal with.

Mr. J. Walton asked the Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs whether, seeing that Russia had collected and retained the Imperial Maritime Custom Revenues at Newchwang since August, 1900, and in view of the fact that these formed part of the security for Chinese loans, His Majesty's Government had made representations to the Russian Government in regard to the restoration of these moneys in the interest of British bondholders; and, if so, with what results?

Lord Cranborne: We have been informed that the duties collected by the Imperial Maritime Customs at Newchwang are paid into the Russo-Chinese Bank to the credit of the Chinese Government, minus the monthly amount required for the support of the office. I understand that the Russian authorities claim to deduct from these funds the amount expended by them in the repair of the Shanhaikwan-Newchwang Railway, but further inquiries are being made as to whether such an arrangement would endanger the security of the bondholders. —*L. & C. THE CHINESE MEETINGS AT SHANGHAI.

It is reported in local mandarin circles to the effect that the Shanghai Taotai has received secret instructions from Peking through the high authorities at Hankow to find out the names of the men who called the public meetings at Chang Su-ho's garden, a short time ago, and at the Canton Hotel, on Ningpo Road, to protest against the action of Governor Wang Chieh-ch'un regarding Kwangsi, and the conduct of the Russians in Manchuria. It is further stated, according to the N. C. D. News, that attempts are to be made to arrest and punish some of the men who spoke at these meetings.

THE STRAITS TIN TRADE.

The Perak Pioneer thus comments on the action of the F.M.S. Government in putting a prohibitive duty on the export of tin ore from there to countries beyond the limits of the Straits Settlements.

The decisive action of Government will not however interfere with legitimate tin trade operations by the American Syndicate or any other company. It will still open to the syndicate to purchase all the ore it can, smelt it locally and export the metallic tin on equal terms to any part of the world. The American endeavour to capture our tin trade having thus been signally checkmated an era of uninterrupted prosperity for the industry may be confidently expected. The policy of the Government in levying a prohibitive duty on tin ore might be liable to be misconstrued and subjected to adverse criticism in certain quarters; but its action in the manifest public interests can well afford to stand the brunt of any unreasonable cavillings on the part of interested parties. Now, however, that Government has gone so far, it is a matter for consideration whether the time has not arrived and circumstances come about for the total prohibition of the export of tin-ore from the F.M.S. By this measure not only all difficulties and complications will be avoided; but the revenue would be benefited by the levy of the higher rate of duty on the metallic tin.

Mr. Chamberlain's Fiscal Policy.

LONDON, 29th May.
Mr. Chamberlain says that although an entire reversal of the Fiscal Policy is not suggested, the application of his ideas would require a new mandate involving the consideration of the general condition of the country and the position of the working classes; without closer fiscal relationship and closer political union, the Empire was impossible; when a new mandate had been obtained, another Colonial conference would be called and in the meanwhile the fullest information would be collected as to the likely effect of preferential tariffs on the manufactures of the country. The opposition leaders did not participate in the debate, awaiting Sir Henry Bannerman's motion on fiscal policy.

RELATIONS WITH FRANCE.

However much the political importance of his Majesty the King's visit to Paris may be, it would hardly minimise the significance of his speech to the members of the British Chamber of Commerce will not be overlooked in the chanceries of Europe. Quickened, no doubt, by the tortuous policy of the Power towards which Great Britain was traditionally disposed to incline, there has been a remarkable drawing together of the two nations since the memory of the Fashoda episode was buried. And when his Majesty said "I trust the friendship and admiration we all feel for the French and their glorious traditions may develop into a sentiment of the warmest affection and attachment," he was acting as the mouthpiece of the whole nation. There is no people for whom the British entertain a warmer and more genuine regard than the French, but not until the recent unmistakable outbursts of national sentiment had dispelled our neighbours of certain unfounded suspicion as to our foreign policy, was there scope for this feeling to fructify in the cordial understanding we now believe to be in view. Nor was his Majesty glazing over real difficulties in order to tickle his host's ears with honied phrases. In no vital direction does the policy of Great Britain clash with that of France; since the partition of Western and Central Africa closed doors to Chauvinist enterprises in that part of the Continent, there are only two points where their interests are even likely to conflict. We refer, of course, to Morocco and Siam. With regard to Morocco the lines of an amicable settlement have been indicated. As long as Great Britain's trading rights are protected and the neutralization of the Mediterranean littoral opposite Gibraltar guaranteed, we have no concern in the future of Morocco, and France might be left with a free hand to extend her territorial holding whenever she pleased. There is reason to believe that an understanding on these lines would not be unacceptable to France and Spain. If advantage is taken of the present's approachment to come to a general agreement on this basis, the greatest danger of a breach in the good relations of the two Powers will be removed.

In Siam the position is more delicate. We do not question that responsible French ministers are in accord with the declared policy of Great Britain, to maintain the integrity of the Siamese Kingdom as a buffer between India and Indo-China. The French Colonial Party are, however, governed by no such moderate ambitions. They look ultimately to the complete absorption of Siam and will countenance no policy which does not open the door to further aggrandisement. Unfortunately the Colonial Party are a power in French politics. They have more than once brought the two Governments to the verge of a serious impasse, mainly through their stubborn opposition, the ratification of M. Delcassé's Franco-Siamese treaty has been postponed for a year and it is useless disguising the fact that with a weaker Foreign Minister than M. Delcassé, the extreme Colonial group might commit France to a course inconsistent with the rights of Great Britain. But in Siam, no less than in Morocco, there is no problem which ought to be beyond the resources of prudent statesmanship. The real danger lies not in the clash of rival interests, but in the fatal habit of drifting which has become engrained in the British Foreign Office. If the British Ministry will only overcome their constitutional dislike to a definite policy in any part of the world, and float on the present wave of enthusiasm a sound working agreement with regard to these two danger points, there is little fear of any purely Anglo-French complication upsetting the entente cordiale between the two countries. This is, moreover, an understanding which need arouse no fears and excite no jealousies. It menaces no legitimate interests; it runs counter to no reasonable ambitions; but adds one more guarantee for the preservation of the peace of Europe, which each year becomes better with sacrifices to maintain.

AUSTRALIA AND THE LASCARS.

We sincerely hope the Government will assume a stiff-necked attitude towards the preposterous position taken up by the Commonwealth Administration in the matter of the mail contracts. Of all the irrational and oppressive legislation the subservient Barton Ministry has been forced into at the bidding of the Labour Party, this enactment against the employment of lascars is the most unjustifiable. Australia entirely depends for its markets upon communication with Europe. It has contributed nothing towards the cost of the splendid fleets of steamers which keep it in frequent contact with the west; it provides none of the business ability which manages them, and it takes no share in providing the officers and men who man them. Yet since the Commonwealth Government came into being they have deliberately adopted a policy of harassing the great companies upon which they are dependant for their material prosperity. For some of these measures there is the justification that the interests of the shipping companies clash with those of the Australian firms engaged in the Coasting trade. But for the crusade against the lascars there is not even this excuse. If the whole of the lascars engaged on ships plying to the Antipodes were discharged to-morrow not a single Australian would benefit. Very few Englishmen would derive advantage either, as their places would be taken by the Dutchmen and Swedes who are flocking into the British mercantile marine in yearly increasing numbers. These considerations are not likely to have weight with the Australian Labour Party, nor with the Barton Ministry, which is its obedient tool. The Labour members are guided by a bigoted and unreasoning prejudice against Asiatic labour in any form, and care not if foreigners take the place of the British subjects whom they desire to oust. There is only one answer to such demands. If the Australian Government, in accordance with the Act against which the Bombay and Bengal Chambers of Commerce protest so strongly decline to be a party to any agreement involving steamers employing coloured crew, it is the duty of the British Government, if possible, to make arrangements independently of Australia. It is extremely doubtful if the mail service to Australia could be conducted entirely by white labour. The Orient Line tried it and had to abandon the attempt. Even if the alternative were practicable, remembering that while labour would be chiefly foreign labour, it would be a monstrous injustice if British subjects were thus displaced by aliens. If the Home Government and the shipping companies will only present a united opposition to this insolent claim, they can easily frustrate the tactics of the ignorant Labour members who have too long been allowed to "boos" Australian politics.—Times of India.

NEW PESOS EN ROUTE TO MANILA.

COINS EXPECTED TO ARRIVE BY JULY 1.

The first shipment of the new Philippines pesos will reach Manila on the transport Thomas due here from San Francisco on May 27th, reports the Manila Times. It consists of 1,200,000 coins and will be followed in close succession by several other large shipments. A shipment of 2,500,000 pesos left New York on May 10th and is routed by way of the Suez. Nothing definite is known here as to the date of its receipt as it is not known what vessel will bring it from the Mediterranean to the Orient. It is expected that a third shipment of 1,500,000 will be started from San Francisco on the transport leaving there on June 1st. These insure a supply of at least 5,200,000 by July 1st and it is not impossible that that amount will be exceeded by 1,000,000 or 2,000,000.

It is believed here that the amount on hand on July 1st will be sufficiently large to warrant the inauguration of the new currency on that date, but the plans of the Philippine Government as to the matter have not been clearly defined. Certain steps in preparation for the new plan have been taken at the Baguio sessions but they do not definitely foreshadow the governmental plan.

There is still much speculation about the plan of converting the present currency but the task grows easier every day, for silver continues to leave the islands in large quantities. Since January 1st 7,000,000 pesos have been exported and if the drain continues at the present rate it is possible that 9,000,000 or 10,000,000 pesos will represent the total exportations by July 1st. It is also anticipated the shortage created by the exportation will have a tendency to drive the price of silver up in Manila.

PREPARING FOR THE NEW COIN.

It is evident that the Philippine Government intends to place the first of the new currency in circulation on July 1.

The executive orders issued by Governor Taft after the recent conference which the Commission had with Treasurer Branagan and Auditor Lawshe clearly indicate that such is the purpose of the Government.

These orders direct that all disbursing officers of the Government shall deposit all local or Mexican currency in their hands which is not required for distribution before June 30. No payments in local or Mexican currency will be made by any disbursing officer after June 30, the close of the fiscal year, although any disbursing officer who is unable to complete his payments for the fiscal year will be permitted to hold his accounts open until July 15. Immediately upon closing their accounts up to June 30 all disbursing officers will at once deposit in the treasury all balances due the Government as shown by the accounts current.

Hereafter all heads of bureaus, and officers, are expected to exercise a reasonable supervision over the affairs of all cashiers or disbursing officers serving under them, consistent with the responsibility imposed upon such officers and the discretion conferred by law upon each disbursing officer. For this purpose each head of a bureau or office is directed to cause to be counted and verified the cash with which each cashier or disbursing officer under his jurisdiction is chargeable, at least once a month. In every case where a disbursing officer is disbursing for more than one bureau or office, he shall submit to each head of bureau or office for which he disburses and shall also state the amount on hand in cash and the amount on deposit and the name of the depository.

Every disbursing officer shall state on every account current rendered by him to the Auditor, the kind or kinds of currency comprising the balance shown on the account current and shall also state the amount on deposit, and the name of the depository. The examiner will report to the Auditor the amount on hand and deposit at the date of each investigation.

One of the acts which the Commission has passed is an act requiring officers and agents of the Insular Government whose duty it is to receive and deposit revenues or other money in the Insular treasury or in a designated depository, to deposit the same promptly and providing a penalty of $2,000 for failure to do so; and also a penalty for failure by any accountable officer of the Insular Government or provincial governments to render accounts as required by law.

SHIP BUILDING IN GREAT BRITAIN.

The decline in the shipbuilding trade is shown very clearly in the returns issued by Lloyd's Register of Shipping for the first quarter of the year. The total shipping under construction in the United Kingdom on March 31, excluding warships, was 425 vessels, of 974,686 gross tons. At the same date last year there were under construction 431 vessels, of 1,240,344 gross tons. It will be noticed that the number of vessels is not greatly different in the two cases, and that consequently the average size must have been largely decreased. The most noticeable falling off has been in sailing vessels. In the first quarter of 1902 thirty of these aggregated 26,840 tons—an average of 895 tons each; while this year forty-three only totalled 11,321 tons—an average of 263 tons. This looks as if the big sailing ship had not proved as economical as had been anticipated. The number of sailing ships under construction is nearly 50 per cent greater than it was in 1902, but the tonnage is reduced by 58 per cent. In steamers the difference is not so marked, the average falling from 3,026 gross tons to 2,522 gross tons, and the numbers from 401 to 382. The diminution of trade is by no means evenly distributed among the various districts; indeed, in Belfast, and in the district of Barrow, Maryport, and Workington, there is no decrease at all. At Belfast there are under construction 19 vessels, of 190,905 tons, against 19 of 176,988 tons on March 31, 1902. It will be seen that the average size of ship at Belfast has risen from 2,715 tons to 27,890 tons, and the number of vessels from 8 to 11. The great increase in the size of mercantile steamers is a noticeable feature. There are now building four vessels of 15,000 tons and above, five of 12,000 to 15,000 tons, six of 10,000 to 12,000 tons, three of 9,000 to 10,000 tons, four of 8,000 to 9,000 tons, and fourteen of 7,000 to 8,000 tons. The largest number of vessels are, however, between 1,000 and 2,000 tons, there being fifty-nine of that size under construction. All the districts of the kingdom have felt the depression in the shipbuilding trade, except those already mentioned. The totals have fallen from 267,894 to 206,597 tons at Glasgow, from 174,875 to 101,360 tons at Greenock, from 76,825 to 57,822 tons at Hartlepool and Whitby, from 224,294 to 178,058 tons at Newcastle, and from 158,639 to 116,319 tons at Sunderland. In all the rest of the world the aggregate of vessels under construction omitting warships, in the early part of the year was about 720,000 tons, so that we are still not only the largest shipbuilders, but we do more work than all the rest of the world combined. Not only are we the greatest builders, but we are also the greatest users. At the end of the quarter we were building for ourselves and our Colonies 794,000 tons of shipping, against the 720,000 tons the rest of the world was building for itself, and we were also building 181,000 tons for foreign or unknown owners. If we built as slowly as some foreign nations, these figures would appear still more striking, for then we should have more tonnage under construction at a given time. As a basis of comparison, it may be mentioned that in September, 1901, the highest figures were reached, and that at that time they were 439,000 tons in excess of those of the last quarter.—Engineering.

ANONYMOUS LETTERS IN NEWSPAPERS.

There was an interesting discussion at the recent sitting of the conference of the United Progress Associations, in Sydney, on a motion of the effect—"That it be a recommendation to the Government to pass a Bill making it compulsory for all correspondence appearing in the public press to bear the full name and address of the writer." The mover and seconder, and those who thought with them, dwelt at length on what they considered the evils of the existing system. It afforded, they claimed, facilities for "stabbing people in the back." On the other hand, it was contended, that, especially in country places where everybody was known, abuses could rarely be brought to light except anonymously, for people, even in the interest of the public welfare, could not be expected to make personal enemies. One delegate referred to the famous letters of Junius and Horace as an argument in favour of anonymity; another saw in the proposal "only an insidious scheme to extinguish our old friend 'Pro Bono Publico.'" Mr. Clara, M.L.A., deprecated discussion on the subject, on the curious ground that the matter would before long come before the consideration of Parliament. Eventually, the motion was lost, and Mr. Clara need therefore have no fear of Parliament being influenced by any formal expression of opinion on the part of the conference.—Sydney Daily Telegraph.

The Strait Echo deems it neither wise nor fair that in Penang and some of F.M.S. the school authorities appear to consider that they have done their duty when they vote or grant for the upkeep of educational establishments just sufficient to keep the wolf from the door.

JELERU MINING AND TRADING COMPANY.

The directors' report and accounts for the past half year state:—
The option granted to Captain F. B. Lawson, referred to in the half-yearly report dated 21st November, 1902, was not exercised. No work has been done on the lode mines during the half year. The loss for the half year, mainly depreciation, is $7,026.37, bringing the balance at debit of Profit and Loss Account to $110,369.96. A scheme for re-construction, with a view to providing sufficient funds to sink the Glamie shaft, is under consideration by the Board. Failing this, it will probably be necessary to liquidate the Company. The Board now consists of Messrs. E. Nathan, J. W. Van der Stadt and J. Graham. Mr. Nathan retires by rotation and offers himself for re-election.
